“ I am so saddened to hear of Art’s passing! I am disappointed that I was unable to be in attendance because I am out of town! Art was a hard working man who shared his wisdom with me as we worked along side each other! Eloise and family have my prayers!

“ Art Gray has been the man I called Dad for over 63 years when he met and married my mother, Eloise.
I knew him as a strong man.
Physically strong.
Strong in his beliefs and opinions.
He had a very strong work ethic.
He was very dependable, things had to be done a certain way.
He had a strong love of farming, the animals and the land.
He had strong, deep feelings about many things but didn't always share those feelings he held closest to his heart.
He stayed strong as long as he could dealing with his poor health and decreasing strength. he wanted to live to see the next new calf born, to drive his tractor again, to eat another piece of cake or pie that Mom made and talk to his son Tim about what was happening on the farm.
My hope is that he feels strong again in heaven free from pain and breathing easy and at peace. His work here is done.

Well said, loving true and kind. Just like the person you are. My "stepfather" George raised me from the age of 8 after he married my mom who was Art's Aunt Alice. "George" was my dad, I was blessed he was always there for me and will miss him always. We were family, was my dad- just like Art was your dad. When George passed, my name lovingly appeared in the obit as his daughter, and my loss was embraced as same by my loving mother who recognized who family was and acted with grace love and respect. You deserve the same dear Diane. Art would be proud of your grace and respect.

“ It is with deep sorrow to learn of the passing of Art. We were school mates for twelve years and colleagues for fourteen. It is so hard to express your feelings about someone who you have known for seventy-five years. I have so many fond memories of Art. Being a school mate, playing sports together and working together are so hard to describe in just a few words. Eloise, Tim, and Diane cherish those many fond memories forever. I know I will! Art RIP!
