“ My Aunt Betty was always laughing and telling jokes at family get togethers. She was the best cook, and she gave me all her Nancy Drew books to read as a kid, instilling in me a lifelong love of reading everything I could get my hands on. I'm sorry we didn't get to gether more in later years. All my love to the rest of the family. Cathy##imported-begin##Cathy Rogers-McCoy##imported-end##

“ Dear Charlie-I broke down and cried when I read your e-mail telling me of my friend "Booty"\'s death. I had been thinking of Betty a lot lately but delinquent in writing you and asking her condition after your last note a few months ago, so I was not surprised to hear of her death but greatly saddened by it.

I remember Betty as my roommate who was full of fun and laughter and I\'m sure you and your family have these fond memories of her too. Betty sent me an e-mail picture of the two of you some time ago and she looked so wonderfully healthy and happy and that is the way I shall remember her.

My sincerest sympathy to you and your family.
