“ I will miss all the noisey craziness that always kept us laughing and on our toes. I remember one winter after you came home from hunting me christina and mom were sitting in the living room and you busted through the door with a dead deer head in your hands and started singing rudolph the red nose reindeer. It was so gross and mom was yelling at you to get it out of the house. It was nuts, and we died laughing. And we will never forget it. Or you.
Love, your baby Jessica.

“ One great weekend I and Richard had was when we went to Hollywood California. It was my first plane ride, and Richard scared me so bad, we were having turbulence and he looked at me and said, "I've never had turbulence this bad before" he looked so serious and then started laughing. I remember, how happy he was and excited to be on the show deal or no deal, he won 5,000 dollars. That was a good year.

“ Richard you will deeply be missed. I remember when you would tell people about Jesus in Lois restaurant many times you would share your testimony with others. I can never tell how big your heart was but it was pretty big when it came to helping others. So blessed to have met you over thirty years ago. Your sister in law Debbie Moore

“ *Uncle Richard,
You will be deeply missed. Tammy said it best, you were a giver to so many people, friends and family. I know you are fine because you are with God and with all the people you have loved and lost over the years. If you can, give my dad a hug and tell him I love him.*

“ Richard,

Thank you for being such a good friend, for showing by example that it is more "blessed to give than to receive." Wow, it's going to be way too quiet without you. I'm going to miss hearing your voice and all those stories that you told, the many times you made me laugh, and playing rummy on Saturday nights. I would gladly let you rip my face off one more time, and to hear you walk swiftly into your shop. We all knew when you were coming; we could hear your voice and your steps. It was my honor to hold your hand and pray for you. And now I know how you felt, losing a best friend, because you are one of mine. From the hands of your loved ones, to the hands of Jesus, you will be missed more than you know. But not for long: For life is a vapor, it appeareth for a little time, than vanisheth away. I will see you soon.

Your friend, Donna

Very true, so very quiet without him around. He would always bust through the door and scare everyone lol. I know he was always thankful to have you there to pray for him.
