“ Ruth, so sorry to hear of Rex passing. He will be missed by all. I have a lot of good memories fishing and hunting with Rex. All of them make me smile, some of the silly things he would do when we fished the bass club.

“ Now you have seen the big fish. You can show them all how to fish and also entertain them with your beautiful music. I will miss you but will continue to love you as I always have. I know you will enjoy your beautiful new home. If you hear your name it is because I am doing something that reminds me of you. May you enjoy your new peace and we will meet again someday. I love you Sally.
