“ I have many, many stories, of my grandmother. From road trips to Virginia, to staying up ALLL night with Dee Dee and Danielle, just to make grandma breakfast for a change (because she ALWAYS made us breakfast). We nearly sent the smoke alarm off. Grandma came running out of her bedroom (in a panic), nearly tripped over Danielle (who was sleeping on the kitchen floor), to see me standing on a step stool to cook kielbasa and DeeDee was trying to cook eggs....needless to say Grandma ended up cooking LOL..Grandma was the fun grandma, that let you eat tomatoes straight from the garden and ride your bike too fast at Seneca lake. She was also fiercely protective of her grand children, something I will never forget <3

“ I met Doris when I sold AVON when she lived on Fourth Street in Cambridge, Ohio. She was so full of life and at that time, wrapped up in Wendy's competitions. I never forgot her and she recognized me whenever I would see her out. Of course, I have not seen her for several years, but she was someone you would not forget. With all my sympathies, Mary Jackson Srode. God Bless you, all.

“ i will not forget the endless love grandma has shown me over the years. she will be dearly missed, but heaven gained an angel. She was the kindest soul you could meet. She would always make sure the grandkids were VERY well fed before going home, would take me fishing, and we would spend hours at the eagles playing pool. Let's not forget the Christmas Eve's where she would force us kids to sit on Santas lap as we were all highly traumatized from the years before (she wouldn't stop laughing)

“ Thinking of my sweet mother-in-law. She loved the sun, walking on her beloved Kure Beach in NC, camping at Seneca Lake, cooking, yard work, anything Victoria's Secret and the beauty salon. She was a proud and fiercely loyal mom to seven kids and a grandmother to many. She hosted the best Christmas Eve parties with food for days where the highlight of the night was when Santa showed up (she would laugh so hard at the grandkids as some went running & screaming while others couldn't wait to sit on his lap). She loved attending her grandkids sporting events and often reminisced about her years of playing & coaching softball. She treated me as her own and always sided with me when her son & I didn't see eye to eye (b/c that's what boy moms do 😊)
Doris we know you are at peace now. We miss you and love you more than you will ever know 🥰

“ Dear Grandma - I will always remember when my dad dropped me off at your house at 4 AM to go turkey hunting and you would make me the best breakfast. Then we would always go play in the creek at noon time and then we would always play in the sandbox together. We would always play inside and do the dishes and stuff. I will miss you! love your granddaughter Audrey Fisher 🤔❤️🙏

“ Doris, I'll miss your smiling face at Country View. I still remember the day I came to visit Peggy and you were sitting on the floor. We both got a chuckle out of it and I had to find someone to help you up. And you always liked showing off the beautiful flowers your son would send you. Rest in peace, and my sympathy to your family. Winnie Wells
