“ I spent more birthdays with Dick and Doris than my own parents. I have always thought of the love and care they showed to me as a child. I also remember the time I was in a bicycle accident and Doris came to the house and bandaged my forehead so I didn't need to have stitches. She was really like a second mother to me and I will always remember that.

Barb, Glen and family.

You all are in my thoughts and prayers. Your mom was the greatest.
