“ Dear Family

I so remember your mother and father. I use to work at the Cancer Center, when she first started coming there. I still have a Christmas decoration that your dad made me. I remember also the first time I ever tried Lemmon Poppy Seed Muffins, your mom had made them and brought them to me (one of my favorites) and I always think of her when I have them. Your parents were such sweet people. I also remember receiving Christmas cards from them for several years after I left the cancer center.

Thinking of you all in this time of sorrow.
