“ I had the pleasure working right beside earl at profusion, all the laughs we had and stories we shared. I remember one time when earl went BALISTIC on another electrician that worked there. While he was going off on him I literally pissed myself laughing. After he calmed down he saw the humor in it too. At the time when I worked there his wife worked Biglots and because of them, and her discount, I fully furnished my apartment. He was a good man and a better friend. See you down the road ole buddy
