“ My deepest sympathy for your loss. You are in my prayers and thoughts, I was at the funeral today. I attempted to say something about Betsy but I don't think they heard me from the other room, and I become so emotional I doubt anyone could have understood me.

I was connected to Betsy in 2015 when a friend of mine told me I needed to meet her. She said my story about a school system and my son with Down syndrome mirrored Betsy's story. I'll never forget the night I called her and we spoke for the first time. She was very tearful because she finally found someone that acknowledged and believed her story.

We got to know each other very well over the years. She brought Cyrus over for play dates with my son. We often chatted at 660 while we waited for our sons. And, most recently, I planned to contact her to see if Kristopher could go to his first overnight summer camp with Cyrus.

What I wanted to express at the funeral is that I admired Betsy SO much for all that she had done for her son to ensure he received a proper education—even if it meant pulling him from school and home schooling him. She was so proud to show me how much he was accomplishing while being home schooled. Cyrus is a bright kid. And I don't know if she knew it or not, but Betsy was a hero for doing what she did!

I'm thinking about what I can do to keep her memory alive for advocating for the rights of kids in special education programs.

RIP Betsy.
