“ I worked with Jim for years in the court system and not only respected but admired him. He knew his legal citations backwards and forwards while a prosecuting attorney. This county couldn't have asked for a better prosecutor. He also had a high ethical standard. He was truly of the "old school" politeness and a true gentleman. He will be highly missed.

“ I learned of Jim's passing while wintering in South Carolina. He was a remarkable man and our family will miss him very much.

I have always admired Jim as a professional and a friend. My first experience with him professionally was when he represented the newly consolidated East Guernsey Schools when surrounded by the controversy surrounding the merger. The move was not popular with all, but was the right thing to do. His courage and legal skills helped to launch the new district on the way to success.

I later worked with him for many years as he successfully led the Republican Central Committee through several terms. Jim helped to launch my daughter, Kristin's career by employing her at the law firm during the summer college break and assisting her with finding employment after graduation. These were memorable times for her as she was growing into adulthood. Kristin had a genuine respect for him and he served as the best role model a young lady could have.

Please accept our sympathetic wishes.

Beth, we are so sorry to hear about your dad. Please know that we are all here for you and are praying for you during this time. Although I only met your father once, I can tell from all of your stories what an incredible person he was. Julie Becker
