“ To the family of Joann Taylor - Please except my condolences to a most remarkable woman - you know they saying of how a person you know or a stranger will leave an imprint on your life that you never forget ? Well, that is precisely what Joann did - in 1974 my husband and I were newly married and my husband was our only source of income - he was a coal miner - we were fortunate enough to be able to build our own home - a little after a year of marriage the coal minors went on strike and we did not know what to do re:our home - I had gone to the Guernsey Savings & Loan bank standing in line with tears I tried so hard to hold back, Joann had noticed me and motioned me to come to her line which I did - she respected my privacy so much - she leaned in & ask me what was wrong & I told her - with a smile she ask me to come to the side of the line of tellers and explained I would not lose my home and how to work out payments of a coal minors strike - her kindness was tenfold as was her touch - from that day on she was my teller and in the months that followed after the strike we were able to get caught back up in the right house payment and everything was back to normal - hosanna and I became friends that day and she left a huge impact in the lives of 2 young people starting their lives together- I'm sure she has received a star in her crown and probably more - I'm a firm believer we will see all our loved ones again and May ALL GOD'S BLESSINGS be upon her family - I'm almost 70 yrs old now and have told many many many people about my friend Joann Taylor -
