“ As I look at these pictures of our family, it makes me miss Mark. He would have loved to meet his grandson. I wish he was here, to talk to, to laugh with, to smile with, to share stories. Mark, you would be so proud of Steve and Mary. Not a day goes by that we don't think of you. You were more than my father-in-law, you were a friend, a supporter, and a father. I take comfort in knowing that I will see you again one day - where there is no pain or suffering, and where 'cancer' is not a word. Gabe is a lot like Steve, which means he is a lot like you. He's patient, he loves to smile, and I'm sure he will like football! I wish I could have told you how much you meant to me, how grateful I was for everything you did. I hope you knew that. Mary never left your side in that hospital - every night she was with you. She slept in a recliner for months just so she could be near you. I have never seen love like that-never ending, never fading. I still have your Christmas gift. Its a pair of pajamas with beer mugs and footballs. I will always remember Steve and I coming over on Sunday and there you were, drinking coffee, in your pajamas, playing computer games. I'm sorry I didn't visit you more in the hospital. I sang to you, I don't know if you knew I was there. I always enjoyed singing in the car with you. You would be so proud of Steve, hes always thinking of how he can make you proud. Even as an adult he wants to be just like you. Thank you for being a dad to me. You told me once I was the daughter you never had, well, you were the father I needed. You accepted me and loved me despite all of my mistakes and faults. You told me you were proud of me - I'll never forget that. Thank you for everything. For your wife, Mary, for your brother and sister, for your wisdom and knowledge, and most of all, for your son, Steve; who everyday reminds me I am loved, who cherishes me, who treats me with respect, and truly loves me. He is a great man, he is my best friend, my husband, and the father of my child - your grandson. Gabe will know you one day, he will see your pictures, he will hear your stories, and he will know what a great man his grandpa was. Thank you Mark, for being you.

“ I consider myself extremely fortunate to have been a co-worker and friend of Mark. I always enjoyed hearing the stories of his fishing expeditions in his home state of Minnesota. I will always remember his laugh and concern for others as being truly genuine. My deepest sympathy, thoughts, and prayers go out to his family. Mark will be fondly remembered and sadly missed by us all.

Dear Mary and family,

It was great to read some of the notes from Mark's friends. Tom and Karol; his parents, would be so proud to read these notes. It was great for me to read them also since Don and I have been friends of Tom and Karol while Tom, Mark, and Paula were young children.

While Karol was living she would keep me up to date about your children and how proud she was of all of you. My heart aches for your loss but I also know Mark is Heaven with no pain.

We are sorry that Don and I were unable to make the memorial service for one fine young man. The last time we visited him was on one of Mark's last visits to the great state of MN.

Mary, take care of yourself, God will provide you with His Strength and Love.
