“Marvin, i dont even know where to began, first time in my life i am lost for words. I am hurting so bad right now when we got the call and the nurse told mom you was gone both me and frank lost it, you was more than mine and franks uncle, you was our dad and even though you was not our biological father you was still our dad. Allen always told me dna or blood dont make you a dad and he was right about that. Because a dad is one thats there for you, helps you up when you fall, teaches you things, listens when you need to talk, allows you to cry on their sholder when your depressed, does stuff with you, and well i can go on for days but you was the father figure in our lives, and you was a grandpa to cameron, cailyn, cadence, and jaleigha. We all love you marvin i just pray that you knew that. The last time i seen you when i came to the hospital you told me you loved me and frank and all your grand-babies but you just hoped that the grand-kids would remember you. Well dad i promise you again that me and frank will make sure they will always remember you especially cadence and jaleigha but you know they all love you very much and they are going to miss you too. Marvin, you helped raise me and frank and you and mom both did a great job with frank he has his life together and always has as for me well i know i was wild but it was neither you nor my moms fault. I really messed up my life by the choices i chose to make but i have settled down alot since i had jaleigha she truely was a blessing from god. That day at the hospital marvin i told you i was going to get it all the way together and be more like my brother because i dont want to continue to hurt you and mom, i want to make you both and frank too proud of me i only wish you could be here to tell me your proud of me however, i know you are watching so i promise marvin i am going to try extra hard but please understand you all are going to have to over look me for a couple days because i have my own way to cope and losing you almost killed me as well. Marvin, there is so many things i wish i could of said to you before this because now i am carrying it around with me and it hurts. I hope you are listening so i can get this off my chest.....uncle marvin, i am so sorry for everything i know i have said things to you that i really didnt mean, i know i hurt you with my whole life style, and i know i drove you crazy. But i also know that you knew i loved you as i knew you loved me. I never had the chance to ask for your forgiveness but i been praying every night that you forgave me i love you marvin and miss you more than anything in this world you was really the only one that did anything for me now what am i going to do? who am i going to talk to when i just cant take it anymore i told you everything marvin now ill have to hold it all in or go visit you just to talk, i cant come to you for advice no more or nothing i am lost uncle marvin honestly when god took you home i think you took a piece of me with you. Marv i promise me and frank will stay strong for larry and we will make sure he is ok. Marvin, i just want you to know that frank and i love you so much and we are going to really miss you and so will mom and the kids. None of us will ever forget you marvin you will remain in our hearts forever until we meet again at the golden gate. Uncle Marvin me and frank are really hurt that you are gone and sad we aint going to see you anymore but we both looked at it in the positive way atleast you are no longer suffering or in pain and we know you are in a better place with auntie charolette, grandma grace, and uncle richie. we all love you and miss you marvin we will meet up again when it time.....we love you marvin.....Love Always: Jamie Lynn & Frank Rollins p.s. this is what i wanted to say at the funeral but i knew i wouldnt be able to do it without falling out and as we all know i did that enough.....
