“ I was not alive to know my uncle matt but it still to this day hurts me to know that I never got to know him, from what I have read about him he was a great person and was nice to everyone he met. I never got a day to see him and it deeply saddens me. Hope hevans is treating him right.

“ Becky!
I remember Matt as young boy who came to Plaza restaurant during one of the practices for Cambridge Performing Arts Club CPAC. His passing was a shock. Such a young boy and so much more yet to share and give to the world.
My heart goes out to you. It is a difficult time for you. Words can not comfort you. I just wanted you to know I share your sorrow.

“ This morning as we all wake up to go and visit Matt it is kind of hard to swallow... He has been our neighbor for almost 6 months now... and for the last week I have been waiting for his knock at our door...I feel very blessed to have been given the opportunity to get to know him . I feel so deeply for you all ... I know that these past few days have probably seemed like a nightmare... I know that losing such a beautiful person so young ... is hard to handle...we will all be thinking of you through this.##imported-begin##Champaigne Newland##imported-end##

“ MY prayers and sympathy to family and friends of Matt. I got to know Matt when he traveled with a group of us from Epiphany Lutheran Church in Pickerington, to Biloxi, Miss., to work for a week on post-Katrina reconstruction. We shared the trip down, work in a home together all week and a bunk room. He snored a bunch! I enjoyed my brief opportunity to know Matt - a willing worker and desirous of helping those most needy. Open and transparent. He asked good questions about life, the Lord and the world. And his flute playing was a pleasant gift in the evenings. He made the world I knew a better place. Thanks be to God for Matt; he's at full rest now.
