“ John, Ritta and Family,
We were backdoor neighbors with your mom for a long time. I remember many summers when Melba would hang her clothes out on the line, I could see her out of our kitchen window. Steve or I would walk out on our deck and yell at her, she would either wave at us or smile, yes, she did smile. What we enjoyed most was watching your dad and your mom, riding their own riding lawn mowers, cutting their three lots. We could never figure out if they were racing each other to see who got done first, or just driving fast so they could get the grass cut sooner. If it was on a Friday, I am sure that your dad was just driving fast, because it was fight night, and he loved watching boxing, along with his bag of fritos and root beer. Keep the good memories, they out weigh everything else in life.
Melba, as well as your family, is in our prayers.
love,
Steve and Marguerite

To the Watson family:

My mother, Glenna, went to high school with Melba then later was her hair dresser and neighbor. My mother always talked fondly of Melba. I got to know Melba at Hamilton Beach when we worked together. She always had a bag of candy at her work station that she would offer me. Later when Melba went to the nursing home I would stop to visit with a bag of candy for Melba. I enjoyed conversations with Melba. She was a delightful lady who was a joy to know. I will miss her.

With deepest sympathies.

*Sincerely,
Veronica McConkey*
