“ I am Millie's stepdaughter, Judi. She was married to my dad, Warren. During the summers when I lived in Cambridge, I got to witness a bit of the early days of Dad and Millie's courtship; the sly quick smiling glances, holding hands when they thought no one was looking. Even though Millie was in her later 40's and Dad in his 60's, it was a picture of young love. Thank you, Millie, for the many years of happiness you gave to my dad. While the holiday season is an especially difficult time to lose a loved one, what an awesome and glorious time Millie must be having. Up there with Dad, her parents, and some of her siblings, worshipping in person, Jesus, our Lord and Savior, whose birth here on earth, we are celebrating in a few days. Even through our sadness, those of us still in our earthly bodies, can anticipate with great joy, the day we will all be worshipping together! Much love to David and Bruce. I know how very much you miss your mother. Your stepsister, Judi.
