“ Rick has lived an amazing life even though it was way too short. Rick was a great friend; he was the kind of friend that stands by you when you need somebody to be there. I first met Rick 10 years ago and we've been inseparable ever since.

What is it that we remember when we think of Rick? I think everyone who knows him very well would agree with me on this. He was such a people person.

One thing I will truly miss about Rick. He could make you laugh when you were sad. He always cheered me up when he knew I just had a bad day. That's the trademark of Rick. He always wanted to make people happy and he did.

Rick's death was sudden. I remember when I heard the news I simply could not believe it.

Rick was too young but as it slowly occurred to me I, realized that Rick indeed lived his life wonderfully.

Rick was well-loved and he has done so many good things on earth and I'm sure he'll do much more in heaven.

I will forever be grateful to have known Rick.

I will forever be grateful for spending 10 years of my life with a friend like him, a one of a kind, for sure.

All the memories I have shared with him will forever be cherished and remembered.

Rick will forever live in my heart...In our hearts.

Rick is in heaven now laying down some awesome licks on that lead guitar.

Rick would not want us to grieve too hard, but to celebrate his life. He would never want to see people cry.

We all will never forget Rick. He left a lasting impression on us all. Rick will be missed but I know in the right time, I will meet Rick again.

“ I first met Rick when I was a little girl. He was on stage singing with his band, Southbound, (at the time). He had me up on stage by the end of the night singing with his band. He was such a great guy. Loved his family, friends, and of course, his music. We lived close to him in Southern Ohio when he had a big celebration for his wife's Birthday..Once again, the band was set up and we were all dancing and having a good time. I got back up and sang with him that one last time, 15 years later. We're gonna miss you, Rick. Godspeed. ?
