“ I'm so thankful to have been your son. Where as I didn't get to you to know you well when you were here, these little feet you gave me never stopped moving. The stories, memories and impacts you've had on people made it back to me. Like the moon reflecting the sun, I've been able to see the kindness and love you carried with you everyday reflected back at me. These feet are going to keep on moving along, so I hope I can show you something you haven't seen before. To those of you who have posted. From the bottom of my heart. Thank you. You do not understand how your impactful your words have been in my life long adventure learning about my mom. Thank you. <3

“ To the loved ones of sweet Roberta; I was saddened to hear of the unfortunate loss of dear Roberta. I went to high school with Roberta at Buckeye Trail High School. She was a memorious part of the two years that I got to know her. I went to a high school dance with her and I can remember having a fondness toward her. She asked me to a dance and I was not only honored to accompany her but also had a wonderful time. She even stuck up for me on the school bus a time when some "bullies" were picking on me. I still have the notebook where I wrote her name over and over on the inside cover. I am a critical care nurse in California where I deal with death almost every day. I also recently lost my partner of six years in July in a fatal car accident. There was no "goodbyes" or time to apologize for things that I had said or done to him in the past that had hurt him. He was pronounced dead on the scene and was cremated due to the severity of the accident. There is nothing to say to take away the pain or saddness of her absence. There is not sense to deaths that happen to good, caring, generous, loving people such as Roberta. I know she will be sadly missed by you all. My heart goes out to all of you. Not to belittle the tragedy of her loss, Roberta is still here in our hearts and she is a part of everyone that was involved on her life. She always will be. She is "home" now with God and her loved ones on the other side. She will be watching over you and visiting you all in your sleep with messages and initially, she will be also saddened of her loss and soon she will send happiness and signs of her continued presence protecting and watching over you all. There are so many things that have happened to me, all I can say is open your hearts and minds....and she will be there...smiling at you...and showing you that she is in your hearts and with God. God Bless you all, and again, I am so sorry for your loss. Don Halsey.##imported-begin##Don E. Halsey##imported-end##
