“ I'm sure Bud is coon hunting tonight and afterwards he will walk to the refrigerator and pour himself a glass of milk. I learned so many things from Bud, he was kind of a father figure to me. I learned so many things from Buddy ; everything I know about football, I recognize more old Westerns than anyone in my family, how to take direction and make things I could not have made on my own, " there is a lid for every pot" and the hardest lesson- don't wait to tell someone how you feel or think that you will visit when you have more time. Enjoy your eternal life Russell- you deserve it.
