“ Grandma Merce was a spit fire. Whenever she was sassy with that high pitched voice, I'd laugh, and then she'd laugh because I was laughing. I always loved that about her. With her little ornery grin. She never missed sending me a birthday card every year with a $1 or $5 bill in it. I know she wasn't made of money so I always thought it was such a sweet gesture. She called me pickle puss when I was little because I loved pickles. She was something. I'll miss her dearly.

“ Deepest condolences on the loss of “Grandma Shirley”. I met her many years ago when we were both working at Burger Chef. She became Grandma Shirley and kept in touch for years. She was one very special lady that was so easy to love. I’m so very sorry for your loss.
