“ Dear Larry: I was sorry to read of your mother's death. I never pass your old home without thinking of it as the "Miskimen Place." My brother, Bryce, purchased the former Cramblett farm and has lived there since his marriage in 1965.

I am typing the booklet for our class reunion. It was interesting to read your part. Sometime, when you are here, please give me a call and perhaps we could meet with our mutual spouses and get acquainted as adults.

“ Grandma, I miss you. I remember coming to visit you and Grandpa during the Fourth of July weekend in 1986. We had fireworks in your yard and talked about the nation's Independence Day celebration that year. I love you. May the angels keep you safe for eternity in the arms of Jesus Christ. Say hello to my late husband Rob. You never met in this physical plane. You will meet one another in heaven...Cheers
